BOCHE IS BOWED DOWN BY HEAVY LOSSES AND DEFEATS

German Prisoners Depressed; Don't Want Victory Now, They Want Peace

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
FRANCE, Aug. 1.—"The Heart Bowed Down" is the German tune now.

German officers and men taken prisoner near Merris, Morlaucourt and east of Amiens are extremely depressed as a result of the crown prince's failure and General Foch's staggering reply to Ludendorff.

After the first few weeks of the German offensive, I declared the German morale to be high—higher than at any other time. They strutted inside the prison cages as though they already owned the world. They replied even to kindly treatment with contemptuous and condescending smiles. They sneered at American fighters and jeered at American help.

Today I believe it is equally true that the German soldier is more depressed than at any period. Prisoners admit supplies are low and that ammunition is not plentiful. They say it is very difficult to obtain recruits to fill the ranks of worn down divisions. Food, they report, is getting scarcer. Instead of a smashing victory they now long for immediate peace. Events are going against them, while the Allies are growing stronger with each week. Slowly the truth seems to be sweeping through the German lines. They are beginning to hear that the Americans not only are well represented on the west front but are also beating the best Prussian troops. They have heard that the crown prince is retiring instead of advancing and that Prince Rupprecht's offensive against the British was postponed because of this and other factors.

From the statements of prisoners, some of them obviously fed that the British would assume the offensive. In short, they are very unhappy. I have seldom seen the front as quiet as it has been here. Save for British shelling and the spasmodic bursts of German shells, the front resembles a Sunday afternoon in a country church yard.

SEVEN BRITISH, 17 GERMAN AIRPLANES ARE DESTROYED

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Destruction of seven British airplanes in bitter fighting while on bombing expeditions was reported today by the British air ministry, which stated that only one German machine was shot down in these combats. Sixteen other German planes, however, were destroyed, one of them by infantry fire, while the additional British losses amounted only to six. One German plane was reported driven down out of control. The communiqué follows:

"On July 30 haze and ground mist again interfered with ground observation, but nevertheless, a number of successful photographs were taken by us and over eleven tons of bombs dropped on enemy sidings and dumps. "Enemy machines were encountered, fifteen being brought down and six driven down out of control. Six of our machines are missing.

"During the night three and a half tons of bombs were dropped by us without loss. In addition to those already reported, a hostile machine was shot down by infantry fire on the 29th.

"In addition to attacks already reported on the 30th the station at Lahr was bombed.

"On the night of the 30th-31st our airplanes again proceeded to Stuttgart and dropped nearly two tons of bombs on the Bosch magnet works and the Daimler works and railway station. A fire broke out in the station. Several bombs were dropped on the Hagnau station and railroad tracks, causing a heavy explosion.

"Remilly Junction and two hostile aerodromes were attacked with bombs and machine gun fire.

"On the morning of July 31 and 7:30 o'clock one of our squadrons attacked Coblenz station. Owing to clouds observation was impossible.

"The station and factories at Saarbrücken were subjected to two attacks. The first formation encountered large numbers of hostile aircraft before reaching their objectives. Bitter fighting ensued in the course of which four of our machines were shot down. The remainder bombed their objectives and on their return journey were again heavily attacked, losing three more machines. One hostile machine was disabled.

Our First Large Casualty Lists Soon to Be Issued

Nation Must Steel Itself For Shock of Recent American Losses

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The nation must steel itself for the shock of the first great casualty lists, according to officers today. These lists, while not disproportionate to the scope of recent fighting, will be far greater than recent totals and will bring the war home to America as nothing else, these officers point out.

American casualties for the entire war to the end of July totalled slightly more than 14,000, so far as announced.

Compared with the French and British, the American losses will be small. Seven divisions and two odd regiments are now engaged. Counting replacement units it is likely that more than 200,000 Americans have been in action.

While casualties normally only run two and three per cent, it is regarded as quite possible the dead, wounded, missing and prisoners in a conflict so serious as the Soissons-Rheims battle will be ten per cent or more.

FRENCH GENERAL PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN FIGHTERS

Allies Force Germans to Use Reserves to Defend Soissons-Rheims Line

By FRED S. JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
FRANCE, July 31. (Night).—Paying high tribute to the Americans' fighting between the Ourcq and the Marne, General De Goutte, commander of the French army in this region, declared the offensive is being carried out in such a manner as to spare allied reserves.

The general, who received the American correspondent at his headquarters, said the Americans had fought and are fighting admirably and that he is proud to command such troops. He said he used the Americans the same as he did the best French troops, a fact of highest importance to the Allies.

The Germans, he said, are endeavoring to destroy allied reserves before America is able to throw a serious weight into the battle, but with American assistance, movements which have completely upset von Hindenburg's plans for a drive on Paris are being carried out with troops solely in the line.

Meanwhile Hindenburg is being forced to throw German reserve divisions into the line to check the Franco-American push. It is estimated that at least nine divisions (108,000 men) have been withdrawn from other parts of the front and thrown in between Soissons and Rheims.

Standing before a great map, General De Goutte explained the apparent German plan of the last Marne attack, which was to widen the front south of the river, thus preparing a wider avenue for the advance upon Paris. French and Americans prevented a serious advance beyond the Marne, then completely scrambled Hindenburg's plans by counter attacking between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry. German resistance has stiffened north of the Ourcq and bitter fighting is under way on the plateau in that region. In Meunier wood (southeast of Clerges) the boches held strong positions which were difficult to take by direct attack. The effort since crossing the Ourcq has been to squeeze them out by flanking movements.

The Franco-American troops have advanced 30 kilometers (18½ miles) since the start of the counter offensive.

Bull-in-the-Pen

Most of us have played that slashing, rough house game of the playgrounds, "Bull-in-the-Pen." The "Bull" stands in the center of the circle made up of boys bound together by firm handclaps. As the ring dances in and out, the players dare the "Bull" to break through. "Tissue paper here," cry one pair, unclasping their hands and holding them high. "Steel bars here," call another not quite so sure that they can hold the "Bull."

Meantime the "Bull" turns slowly, watching the weak spots from the corner of his eyes and least interested in the sector of the line directly in front. Suddenly he springs at two tightly held hands, throws his full weight against them and desperately tries to break through. Sometimes the force of the attack, coupled with surprise, breaks the ring and the "Bull" gets through, with the others in mad pursuit. If the "Bull" does not get through at the first lunge he hangs on in the hope of wearing down the defenders.

If Waterloo was won by the school boys on the playgrounds at Eton, it is safe to believe that the Yanks, Tommies, Poles, Anzacs, Highlanders and Italians are well posted on how to handle the "Bull" that is trying to break through toward Paris. The "Bull," led on by belief of weakness on the part of the "flabby, untrained Yanks," has found these boys only "possuming." The Yank and the Poles have raised the "Bull" on their taut arms and have swung him back toward Berlin with a slam that brought tears and made the "Bull" want to play another game.

We can only appreciate this tragic game as they play it. Over there by reading newspaper dispatches, but we rejoice that the pen is getting smaller, the "Bull" is getting madder and the game is getting better for our crowd. We can keep the game going good for our boys by maintaining that ring of iron will and flesh, strong and determined. Our next big chance to take a hand in the game probably will come in October, when the government asks us to loan six or eight billion dollars in the Fourth Liberty Loan to tighten the ring and drive the "Bull" over the Rhine.

That's a big sum but a small duty.

KILLING OF HUN MAY MEAN NEW AWAKENING IN RUSSIA

Von Eichhorn Assassination Is Bound to Bring Complications With Bolsheviks

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 1.—Field Marshal von Eichhorn, assassinated in Kieff, was the victim of a widespread plot to kill him and five other leading Germans, according to advices received here today.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Assassination of Field Marshal von Eichhorn, morning newspapers believe, means a renewed awakening of Russia against German tyranny.

The Daily Express declares: "It is just a wisp of the heavy storm clouds that are gathering in Russia against the Germans."

The Graphic states: "It is an unmistakable sign that the Russians are not ready to endure forever the tyranny of the Bolsheviks. The Chronicle believes the assassination resulted from the misery and discontent which are felt by the largest social class in Russia."

The German press is seizing upon the assassination as the spark which will set ablaze again the feeling for a renewed war against Russia. Newspapers say anti-Bolshevik elements committed the deed and charge that the Entente's hand can be seen. They declare the Bolshevik government is tottering.

The annexationist press, led by Count von Reventlow, is demanding vengeance, declaring British agents are responsible.

Vorwaerts says: "The deed will lead to complications with the Bolsheviks. We fear peace with Russia will still give us much trouble."

The Lokal Anzeiger comments: "The same elements which were responsible for Ambassador von Mirbach's death may be attributed with von Eichhorn's assassination. It may therefore be confidently stated that the Entente has a hand in the bloody business."

The Tageblatt declared von Eichhorn's murderers were Ukrainians.

Other newspapers say the occurrence should be an eye-opener for Germany, insisting that if German troops cannot be spared Austrian troops commanded by Germans should be sent to Russia, declaring it is a matter of life and death for the central powers.

U-Boat in Spain To Help Destroy Ships of Allies

Wireless Messages Intercepted After French Boat Was Sunk

LONDON, Aug. 1.—"It is quite obvious the U-56 was sent to Santander to organize the destruction of allied and Spanish shipping from a favorable spot," the Times declared today, commenting on the submarine probe being conducted at Santander, Spain.

"Both the Spanish and British governments are to blame because they tolerate it. When the entente are victorious from the war they will make a sharp distinction between neutrals violating neutrality selfishly or for sympathy for the enemy."

SANTANDER, Spain, Aug. 1.—Investigation has disclosed that the German submarine U-56, which arrived here under its own power, has been in communication with other U-boats at sea, it was announced here today.

HILL 205 TAKEN, WOOD CLEARED ENTIRELY OF THE ENEMY

New German Army Thrown Into the Fight; Americans Take Position on East

The attacks were made on the southwestern, southern and southeastern portions of the pocket over a combined front of nearly 25 miles.

The town of Cramoisselle and the important Hill 205 were captured and the Meunier wood was entirely cleared of the enemy.

American troops made their appearance on the east side of the salient for the first time. They were reported advancing toward the Ardre valley.

At the same time, the Germans showed unusual activity on widely scattered sectors of the front, feeling out the allied positions by heavy raids.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A new German army under General Von Eben has been thrown into the Soissons-Rheims pocket, it was learned this afternoon.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 1.—The Germans, in an effort to hold their present line, are reported to be attempting to dig in. These operations are being greatly hampered by allied artillery.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 1 (8:30 a. m.).—American troops struck again last night at the apex of the allied advance on the lower portion of the Soissons-Rheims salient, storming the heights between Serignes and Sergy. They gained their objectives.

The doughboys drove forward behind an American-made smoke cloud. They were preceded by a series of heavy rolling barrages.

The advance was made possible by an allied attack in the sector directly east of the Americans, which cleared out a small German pocket.

Attempted enemy raids in the Verdun region and elsewhere were unsuccessful.

AMERICAN DRIVE MAY TRAP THE GERMANS

If Wedge Proceeds to Fismes, Huns Will Be Between Two Pincers

BY J. W. T. MASON
(United Press War Expert)
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—In reply to von Hindenburg's counter attacks north of the Ourcq, American troops are now engaged in an advance along the main railway leading to Fismes which threatens to divide the Aisne-Ourcq salient into two narrow pockets.

Fismes is about midway between Soissons and Rheims. If the American advance to Fismes is unchecked and if von Hindenburg delays his retreat east and west of the American drive too long he will yet meet with disaster. The possibility that a large bag of German prisoners may be taken has now returned through the operations of the Americans along the Fismes railway.

General Foch's strategy is still directed toward narrowing von Hindenburg's maneuver group so that the Germans will be caught in a trap. The east sides of the Aisne-Ourcq salient are so strongly held by the Germans as to make the work of pushing inward very difficult. General Foch is therefore trying to push northward through the middle of the southern base of the salient. This is the operation in which the Americans along the Fismes railway are now engaged. If the maneuver succeeds, the Aisne-Ourcq would become in shape like a "V," the three top being represented from left to right by Soissons, Fismes and Rheims. The Germans would be caught in the two V-shaped wedges, with the Allies on the east, west and south and also in the middle within the inverted "V." The Germans would thus be caught in two traps. To avoid this development von Hindenburg must order a retirement along his entire southern front if the Americans continue to move toward Fismes. Counter offensives by von Hindenburg at this time are useless unless they are concentrated against the American apex along the Fismes railway. This is why von Hindenburg is thrusting savagely at the American divisions. It is the Americans who are driving him at bay.

BERLIN BOASTER NOT SCARED BY AMERICANS?

Kaiser Tells His Poor Fishes That His U-boats Will Prove Successful

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 1.—"The American army's numerical superiority does not frighten us," the kaiser declared in a proclamation addressed to the German army and navy today.

"Despite the efforts of the world's greatest naval powers, our U-boats, sure of success, are attacking the seas to the aid of our enemies."

The text of the proclamation so far as received follows:

"Four years of the war lie behind us. During these years your victorious spirit carried the war into the enemy's country, preserving the homeland from its horrors and devastation. In the second and third years of the war you broke the strength of the enemy in the east. Meanwhile your comrades in the west offered a brave and victorious front to enormously superior forces."

"As the fruit of these victories the fourth year of the war has brought us peace in the east. In the west the enemy was heavily hit by the force of your attack. The battles won in recent months are among the highest deeds of fame in German history."

"You are in the midst of your hardest struggle. The desperate efforts of the enemy will be foiled as heretofore by your bravery. I, and with me the entire fatherland, am certain of this."

"The American army's numerical superiority does not frighten us. It is the spirit which brings decision as well as the course the campaign has hitherto taken. Despite the efforts of the world's greatest naval powers our U-boats, sure of success, are attacking the vital forces which are streaming across the sea to the aid of our enemies."

"We must and shall continue to fight until the enemy's will to destruction is broken. We will make every sacrifice to attain that end."

NEGOTIATE WITH SWORD, THING TO DO NOW

Appearance of German Ministers In Holland May Mean Renewal Peace Drive

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann and former Chancellor von Bethman-Hollweg are rumored to have appeared in Holland, the Mail announced today.

The newspaper pointed out this may possibly mean a renewal of the German peace offensive in connection with the new open letter of Lord Lansdowne.

The morning papers are unanimously unsympathetic with Lansdowne's attitude. The Daily Mail, anti-government, does not comment but the Northcliffe press severely denounces the letter.

"Lansdowne's new epistle will do nothing but mischief," the News said. "When Lansdowne has persuaded the kaiser and Hindenburg to return to Germany and pay for the damage they have done, then peace can be talked about. The Allies and the British stand firmly by, only saying, 'The agony must not be gone through again.'"

Other newspaper comment included: Sketch: "He ought to have addressed the letter to the kaiser."

Express: "Lansdowne declares the present is an opportune moment to negotiate peace. He is mistaken. It is opportune to negotiate with the sword."

Graphic: "His utterances will lead to nothing."

Chronicle: "He wants us to state bedrock terms. We doubt that Lansdowne, if buying a house, would tell the absolute top price he would give."

TELEGRAPHERS FILE PROTEST AGAINST WESTERN UNION

First Day of Government Control Brings Wire From Atlanta Operators

Unrest was reported among telegraphers in some sections. Postmaster General Burleson issued a statement urging co-operation between employees and employers.

The course of the government in situations similar to the one which has arisen at Atlanta will be determined by investigation.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 1.—Although government control of the telegraph systems is in effect, officials of the Western Union today continued to discharge members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union.

Western Union officials stated their policy with reference to the union is unchanged, union leaders declare.

A walkout in the Atlanta office of the Western Union is threatened.

ANTI-USURY BILL TO GO UPON THE BALLOT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—The required number of signatures to place the Anti-Usury bill before the voters next November, destined to put the loan shark out of business, was assured yesterday when the campaign for signatures in cities and towns outside of Los Angeles closed.

The Los Angeles signatures numbering 103,000 have been checked and there are enough signatures to carry the petition to the secretary of state to insure the bill being placed on the November ballot.

Eight hundred signatures were secured at San Bernardino, 1000 in Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton and 3000 in San Diego, according to figures received last night.

It was reported that an organization is being formed here to fight the bill when it is placed before the voters. Officers of the Anti-Usury League yesterday learned that such an organization was being formed by loan sharks and allied interests.

HAS OFFICE, CAN NOT RESIGN AT PRESENT TIME

Constable of Capistrano Accepts Position on City Police Force

John T. Combs, who has been peace guardian at Capistrano for a number of years, today finds himself with a position on his hands that he cannot resign. He has entered the employ of the city police department, and will take up his duties this evening. He succeeds Joe Ryan, who leaves Monday for army service.

Combs is a candidate for re-election as constable in Capistrano township. He has no opposition. It is too late to take his name off the ballot, and the voters will therefore have to elect him. Following his election he will tender his resignation to the Board of Supervisors, when his successor will be named.

Combs is the man that Hprace Cook, formerly motorcop here, spotted early one morning on the streets of Santa Ana and followed for a number of blocks in the belief that Combs was a crook.

Combs came in from Capistrano on the Owl that morning and was looking around the streets waiting for the city to wake up to business life. His actions aroused the suspicion of Cook and the latter followed him for some little time. Finally Cook approached Combs and engaged him in conversation in an effort to ascertain his reasons for prowling about so early in the morning. Combs led the motorcop on for a little while and finally told who he was. The incident made Cook the subject of a great deal of joking by fellow officers.

Combs has moved to Santa Ana.

TENER APPEARS OUT OF NATIONAL COMMISSION

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 1.—The practical elimination of John K. Tener as a member of the National Commission and as president of the National League is seen in the action of Gerry Herrmann in calling a meeting of the National Commission at Cleveland Saturday.

"I will not attend the national meeting of National League owners at New York Saturday to arrange for closing the league race."

"I will not attend the national meeting at New York," Herrmann said. "National League owners have already agreed to play until September 2."

"As the National League cannot arrange world's series dates, I called a meeting of the commission for that purpose. Tener no longer will meet with the commission, so we will conduct our affairs without him."

Bushman quietly discussed the marriage in the matter, and regretted publicity made by his former wife was read to him:

"They might have waited until the ink was dry on the divorce papers," said the first Mrs. Bushman. "I should have obtained a divorce three years ago," was Bushman's reply to this.

TUB FULL MONEY MAY GO TO THE RED CROSS

Benefit at Diamond Building Tomorrow Night to Be Big Affair

A tub full of money and a 30x3 1/2 Diamond tire for $1 are among the possibilities at the Red Cross benefit to be given Friday night at the Diamond building at the corner of Fifth and Birch streets. The tire will be auctioned to the highest bidder, and under the plan of bidding the highest bidder might be a man or woman throwing $1 into the tub at the last.

A big tub will be placed at the foot of the auctioneer. The first bidder will throw the amount of his bid into the tub and the party raising him will throw in the difference between the amount of cash in the tub and his bid.

For instance, one might bid $3 and throw the amount into the tub. The next bidder might offer $4, but will chip in only $1. The bidding should be lively and continuous under the method, and the promise is that the Red Cross will reap a neat little sum from the auctioning of the tire. Duplicate tires of the one to be auctioned are on display in the windows of the White Cross, Rowley's drug store, Sam Hill's store at Fourth and Broadway and Sam Stein's. The buyer of the tire may exchange it for a larger one by paying the difference in cost, the one offered at auction selling at $21.10.

The jitney dance will start about 8:30 o'clock, with A. G. Flag in charge of the floor. Dancing will be on the cement floor, which will be "doctored" so as to make dancing easy and pleasurable. A four-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

WOMAN DOES BEST AS UNDERTAKER, SAYS LADY CORONER

Young Woman Handles Many Suicide Cases, Goes Everywhere Unafraid

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The Visitation Valley car tragedy in San Francisco, which killed eight persons and injured many others, brought into prominence Mrs. Winifred Lasswell—pretty and young—who was the deputy coroner of San Mateo county who conducted the inquests following the accident. Eight months ago her husband died and she succeeded him in the undertaking business and as deputy coroner. It was her first big case.

"I've been working among the dead since I was 17," Mrs. Lasswell told an interviewer. "I was married then. At first I never could handle the work. But I soon got over that. Then my husband died. I was ready to take his place."

"I have handled a number of suicides. I fear nothing. I go everywhere," she added in answer to questions. "A while back there was a murder at Salada Beach. An old man was found with a bullet through his head. He was found in a tumble-down shack on the beach. I went after his body about midnight. It didn't frighten me a bit."

"I know you will not understand. Few people can. It takes time to get the viewpoint that this work is beautiful. I consider the two greatest works to be that of the doctor who brings life into the world and the person who sends life back to the grave. Few agree with me and that's what makes my profession so hard. The world makes it hard."

"I believe, also, that this is really a woman's work. A woman is so much more artistic, sympathetic and has much better an understanding than a man."

AMERICAN LEAGUE TO HOLD MEET SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Acknowledgments were expected today to President Ban Johnson's call for a special meeting of the American League in Cleveland Saturday. The question of closing the schedule August 20 and holding a world's series before September 1 will be discussed. At Johnson's office it was said at least six owners were in favor of this. A hint from Washington that after September 1 baseball will not be countenanced caused some leaders to believe the American league will fall in line.

ARTESIAN WATER
WASTE LOWERS
LEVELSFilling of Duck Ponds Menaces Water Supply
For Crops

Filling of duck ponds with water from artesian wells to the detriment of agricultural pursuits in the west and southwest sections of the county was indicated in a motion at the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Palisades last night appointing a committee to co-operate with the District attorney and the sheriff in efforts to put a stop to the useless waste of water from artesian wells.

H. A. Lake of Garden Grove called the attention of the body to a condition obtaining in and around Garden Grove at this time.

"Many farmers in the vicinity of Garden Grove have been compelled to work over their artesian wells in order to obtain sufficient water to carry their crops," declared Lake. "The water level has been dropping considerably in the past few weeks, through the action of the gun clubs in opening wells to fill their duck ponds. Our farmers need the water to carry on their farming operations, and successful farming operations are very essential at this time."

Lew H. Wallace moved that the chairman, secretary and Lake be made a committee to take the matter up with the district attorney and sheriff to see if action could not be taken that would result in abatement of the nuisance.

Jetty Big Success

Lew H. Wallace, reporting for the harbor committee, said that the jetty had been severely tested within the past two or three days by heavy ground swells that had beaten against the jetty, and that the structure had proved that it was sufficiently strong to withstand the pounding of heavy breakers during the hardest storm season. The breakers broke as high as twenty feet over the jetty and never a rock was displaced.

"The test was as severe as we will have at any time during the winter," said Wallace, "and I am proud to say that the jetty has demonstrated that it is substantial and capable of withstanding the heaviest storms of the year. I am also proud to say that the jetty has demonstrated its effect on the bay entrance and that small boats can enter the bay at any season—storm or no storm."

"The city of Newport is now on the point of entering into a contract for dredging work in the bay. At the next meeting of the city council the contract will probably be signed for the work provided for under the $50,000 bond issue voted for such work."

"As soon as the dredging is done there will be no difficulty in locating factories on the bay. During the past two weeks there have been three groups of men here to look over the channel with a view to locating manufacturing plants. If we live long enough and the war doesn't last too long, we will surprise you with the development of good manufacturing enterprises."

President of the Associated Chambers J. A. Armitage added to Wallace's statement by saying that the scouring of the channel at the mouth of the bay as a result of the jetty had been far beyond the expectation of the most ardent boosters for the jetty and bay improvement.

Diverting River to Ocean

Reminded by Supervisor Leck that he had failed to make reference to the hearing on July 18 by Col. Heuer on the cutting of the Santa Ana river to the ocean, Wallace recited briefly some of the matters and points that had been brought out at the hearing. Wallace stated that the report of Col. Heuer on the improvement of the harbor was now in the hands of the printer, after having been received by Congress. He said it would cost about $135,000 to cut the river through to the ocean, and that at the hearing the only opposition that developed was from the railroads and the Taxpayers' League, and that they were willing that the work should be done if it did not cost them anything.

"I accompanied Col. Heuer on an inspection trip to the proposed site for opening the river direct to the ocean," said Wallace, "and Heuer remarked that the problem of diverting a river from a harbor was the simplest in the case of the Santa Ana river that he had ever seen in his long service in harbor work, and that he had never seen more favorable conditions than those obtaining there. His report will be favorable."

F. D. Cornell, of the Palisades, called attention to the fact that as a direct result of the completion of the jetty and the wonderful effect it had on the entrance to the bay, two different parties rounding the world in yachts had stopped at the Palisades within the past few weeks. One of the parties was from Hawaii. The second party is now in the harbor with a fine yacht. "This is merely an introduction of what will be coming when the world war is over and Newport harbor becomes better known," said Cornell.

Good Roads

Condition of the county and state roads in the county was brought up by reports of breaks at different points. George Huntington of Harper called attention to the condition of a depression in the Newport Boulevard at Thurin, where the pavement was cut by the Standard Oil Company in conducting an oil pipe line across the road. He said that repairs had not been made. Supervisor Leck stated that the concrete base had been replaced and that the surface would be put on just as soon as the base had dried out thoroughly.

Secretary Metzgar called attention to the fact that the state highway was going to pieces badly at different points in the county. "If our county roads were in the same condition, the Board of Supervisors would hear from us," said Metzgar. "The state has money, I am informed, and I believe we should

Suggest Monument to Fallen Heroes

F. C. Krause of Anaheim suggested that the Associated Chambers take up the matter of preparing to provide for a suitable monument to Orange county boys who will fall in the great war for a free world, the monument to be located in Orange County Park or at some other suitable point. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of three to outline a plan and report at the next meeting. The committee will be named later.

To Help Seal Beach

E. E. French of Huntington Beach deplored the road conditions existing at the Seal Beach end of the Huntington Beach-Seal Beach road and moved that the Associated Chambers use its good offices and influence to secure a fairly passable road into Seal Beach. President Armitage explained that the bad stretch of road was within the limits of Seal Beach, and that the city's road fund had been depleted and therefore the road could not be put in shape by the city.

Advertising Seal

"Advertising is a necessity, and if we have good roads and a good harbor we must advertise the fact to the world," said Mrs. Chas. A. Roe in presenting to the meeting a plan for advertising the county by the adoption of an official Orange County seal. She presented a drawing for a seal prepared by a county artist about a year ago for presentation to the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce as a means of conveying her idea of what should be on the seal, with explanation that for the county a new drawing would have to be made to embrace all products of the county. The advertising feature would be the use of the seal on all literature going from the county and on private mail matter. The proposition was referred to the advertising committee for investigation and recommendation.

Talk by Naval Man

Goodwin Knight, of the naval reserve at San Pedro, made a fine but brief address on service in the navy. He took advantage of the occasion to pay his compliments to the bay and the wonderful improvements that had been made in and around the bay in the past four years. He declared that the upper reaches of the bay offered a fine location for a submarine base. He said the motto of the navy is "To hell with the submarine," as indicating the fearlessness of the men of the navy and the fact that they do not dread the undersea fighting machine.

Metzgar Present

Secretary J. C. Metzgar was present for the first time in two months, having recovered sufficiently from his recent illness to be out last night. T. A. Winbiger offered congratulatory remarks and expressed the pleasure of the assemblage in again having the congenial secretary in attendance.

Gov. Stephens Late

The business of the meeting was rushed through in anticipation of the arrival of Governor Stephens about 10 o'clock. He had not arrived at that time and adjournment was taken until his arrival. It was nearly 11 o'clock when he and his party arrived, and by that time about two-thirds of those in attendance had departed for home, as it was thought that possibly plans had been changed at the last moment. The governor made a brief address to those who remained, the talk being made in the lobby of the tavern.

The Palisades Tavern served the banquet on time, with fried rabbit as the piece de resistance. The address of welcome was delivered by F. D. Cornell and the response was by Dr. J. D. Thomas of Olive.

Car Off Road

Dr. and Mrs. Keller of Yorba Linda had a near accident on the road to the Palisades. In order to permit a car coming from the opposite direction to pass, it was necessary for Dr. Keller to drive to the edge of the road bordering on the bay. The outside wheel caved in the soft dirt, dropping one side of the car down to a point where the machine could not be pulled out by another car. Finally the machine got out on its own power by driving down into the marshy bottom.

WILSON IN WINNING WAR AGAINST GERMANYSAYS I. W. W.'S ARE

In His Tour of Orange County

Governor William D. Stephens spoke eight times in Orange county yesterday, commencing with La Habra at 2 o'clock and ending at the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Palisades last night at 11 o'clock.

Everywhere he went his theme was "Winning the War." At La Habra, Brea, where he told the oil men of the importance of the oil industry in carrying forward the war; Fullerton and Anaheim, he spoke from the sidewalks. At Orange he spoke at Campbell's hall. Following a banquet given to him at Elks' hall he discussed some of his experiences in Congress.

The biggest crowd gathered in Birch Park in months heard his address there, and from there he went to the Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting at the Palisades. The governor was accompanied upon his tour by Attorney J. C. Burke, for two terms this county's citizen. A delegation of Orange citizens consisting of N. T. Edwards, A. S. Ralph, F. E. Hallman, K. E. Watson and Attorney Coburn met the governor at Anaheim and escorted him to Orange.

Carrying the Message

At Birch Park, Governor Stephens opened his address by recounting some of his experiences in going in to every one of the fifty-eight counties of the state, carrying the message of "Win the War." Everywhere he went he told the people what they could do and what they should do to help Uncle Sam.

"I know the sentiment of the people of this state," said he, "and I know that there is no more patriotic people anywhere than in this state."

"We are engaged in the most frightful war in history. We are fighting to save our own women and children from the horrible fate of the women and children of Belgium, Serbia and France who have fallen into German hands."

Governor Stephens briefly outlined a number of instances of atrocities of which he said there was and could be no question as to authenticity, since the details came to him from men and women of high standing. "As you and I know America, there never will be peace until such things will never again be possible through autocracy, there never will be peace until Germany is overwhelmingly defeated."

Son-in-Law Wounded

"I know how hard it is for parents and loved ones to part from their boys, who are going over there to fight for the safety of their mothers and sisters here. I know—my own son-in-law, husband of the only baby we ever had, is over there, wounded. He is in a hospital now, but he is not coming back, he don't want to come back, until this war is won."

"The boys have gone over willing to make the supreme sacrifice. What are you doing? Are you doing enough to satisfy yourself and your neighbors? The man who fails to do his patriotic duty these days ought to be ostracized by his neighbors."

"There is just as much honor in buying a $50 bond, if that is all you can afford, as there is in buying a $1000 bond. The man who can afford to buy bonds and does not buy what he can afford is walking close to the traitor's path. This country is having less use every day for disloyalty of any kind."

Help War Activities

"We must help the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Knights of Columbus and we must buy War Savings Stamps. Those war stamps are not a child's job alone. It is a thing we must all join in and push vigorously."

"To the Red Cross, we give money that we never expect back. Our reward is in our satisfaction in aiding this great work of knitting. We men will have to hump ourselves if we do not continue to allow the women to outdo us in war work."

The governor urged the planting of gardens, and said that even if they did not pay financially they were that much of a conservation of food.

"Do whatever Hoover says," said the governor. "He can't ask anything I won't do. If he says eatless days, those days I won't eat."

At this point the governor announced his position upon the commissions.

Economy-Efficiency

"I stand for economy and for efficiency in the management of the state's affairs. Government which is not economical is not efficient, and government which is not efficient is not economical. The most expensive kind of government is that which does not efficiently serve the people."

"I pledge myself to do everything in my power to reduce the cost of government, without in any way impairing the high type of service now rendered."

GOV. WILLIAM D. STEPHENS

Governor Gives Position
On Commissions, Would
Stop Grain Use in Booze

Urging everywhere full and complete support of America, Gov. William D. Stephens, California's win-the-war governor, yesterday brought to people of Orange county a stirring patriotic message. At the same time he made himself distinctly plain upon the two other important issues of the gubernatorial campaign.

He pledged himself to do everything in his power to reduce the cost of state government without in any way impairing the type of service now rendered.

"I am in favor of intelligent simplification of the machinery of the state government," he said, "but I am not in favor of tackling the job with an ax or a sledge hammer." That was his answer to the opposition that has cried out for doing away with California's commissions.

"What a shame it is that now, with the great need there is for foodstuffs, that any bushel of grain should go into the making of liquor, and if I had my way not another bit of grain would ever go to make either beer or whiskey."

By that he made himself perfectly clear on the wet and dry question.

dered to the people of the state.

"California has numerous boards and commissions, each delegated to perform a certain definite service demanded by the people of the state. With the exception of the Railroad Commission and the State Board of Equalization, which are constitutional bodies created directly by the vote of the people, all the other boards and commissions were established by acts of the legislature in response to demands by the people that certain definite service be rendered by the state. There is no room for doubting that the people of California wanted to do exactly the work they now are doing, and there is reason for believing that the work is being well done."

About Commissions

"The question, therefore, is whether the work now performed by the various boards and commissions, can under the strictest economy compatible with good service be done at a lesser cost. It is alleged that there are too many commissions and that in some instances they possess overlapping powers."

"In a sense these boards and commissions constitute the machinery of the state government. No human invention ever was perfected at once. After it had been put in operation it was found to have some unnecessary parts. Its perfection came through its simplification—through the removal of the unnecessary parts."

"So it is with the machinery of the state government. It is performing exactly the work that the people of the state want it to perform. But it is possible that there may be some unnecessary parts. It may be that a certain cog may do its own work and as well the work of another wheel also. This can best be determined by those who are familiar with the machinery and understand the work it must do."

No Ax or Hammer

"I am in favor of intelligent simplification of the machinery of the state government, but I am not in favor of tackling the job, either with an ax or with a sledge hammer. I do not believe that the people of California will stand by and permit any clique or group of persons to destroy the governmental machinery which has been created in response to the public demands."

"A close study of all the working parts of the state government now is being made and it is my purpose to present to the next legislature certain recommendations which will result in simplification and greater economy."

"I am convinced that the people of California want economical government but they equally desire efficient government. This I will give them and at the same time I will see to it that the state government continues to render every service which it now performs for the benefit of the people."

Back the President

"We must back up our commander-in-chief. I did not work for the election of Woodrow Wilson, but the day he entered the White House he became my President and your President. If you are 100 per cent American, you will back him to the limit in winning this war. It is your duty to stop the mouth of the man who speaks against Old Glory or our country. A man may be worth ten mil-

STATES HIS POSITION
IN THE MOONEY CASE

"How about the Mooney case?" was a question asked Governor Stephens yesterday at Anaheim by Alex. Henry, who is a supporter of Stephens. The governor's answer was quick and to the point, and brought forth applause.

"I'll attend to the Mooney case just as soon as I can get to it," said he. "I don't intend to allow any influence to cause me to make a precipitous and perhaps an unjust decision. It took the Supreme Court of California two years to decide that case, and I can't and don't intend to decide that case in any one day's or a two days' or a three days' study deliberation. There are volumes of testimony and data in that case, and I will go into the case most thoroughly. I am not going to take any other man's word for what ought to be done. I am going to know for myself, and I certainly shall act in accordance with my own findings."

lions or ten dollars, but he should be treated just the same as a member of that most despicable organization, the I. W. W., despicable because it preaches destruction of property and government. Membership in such an organization is prima facie evidence of disloyalty, and I as governor will do my part in putting such men and other disloyal persons, too, out of America."

"I ask each of you to do all you can to help keep California in the front rank until our boys have victoriously entered Berlin, and there with the Kaiser on his knees secure such peace as I hope will end war forever."

A BIRTHDAY

Yesterday was the war's birthday. It was on July 31, four years ago, that Germany drew her sword to conquer the world. The conflict has now lasted as long as our great Civil war, and when it will end no man knows. All we do know is that it will end in irreparable disaster for Germany.

That birthday was not celebrated in Germany this year with joy and thanksgiving. It was not celebrated at all. So far as possible, the anniversary was passed over in silence by the blind and brutal leaders who lured their people into the abyss. The nation, however remembers, and the day has added to their bitter sorrow.

There is little delusion left in Germany today, despite the fathomless capacity of the German people for credulity and self-deception. They know the game is up. They are merely struggling on and hoping against hope to save something out of the wreckage.

The anniversary that they expected to celebrate in triumph came upon them with the sting of new and ominous defeat. Instead of their own music, fireworks, illuminations and flaunting banners, they heard only the thunder of hostile guns and saw their latest foe, America, advancing by the million under a flag that knows no retreat.

It was a bitter birthday. And all the bitterness is deserved. Germany would have war, and she has had her fill of war. She has filled up her own cup with gall and wormwood, and must drain it to the dregs. Prosit—may it do her good!

THE PROPERTY VALUE OF PEOPLE

Every time a baby is born in New York City the price of real estate goes up. Whenever an immigrant lands at Ellis Island he boosts values. Which causes Rev. Charles Stelzle to remark:

"THE PEOPLE—not kings and kaisers, not crowns and jewels, not lands and houses, but PEOPLE—these are the precious things of earth, upon whom all other wealth depends."

Our reverend friend is wholly right. Wealth—property—is based on people. Evidently, the chief concern of nation and individual should be people. But, one of our great troubles has been that society and organized greed have considered people by numbers only. It makes no difference whether the baby born in New York is an idiot. It makes more people. Prices go up. Somebody has got to feed, clothe and house that baby. The immigrant landing at Ellis Island represents property. He makes more people, who must pay for the necessities of life. Organized greed sees in more babies and more immigrants mere assets, and the more "undesirable" or "raver" they are the "easier" they are as assets.

If capital should fully awake to the fact that the better the kind of people the higher their value as property, there would be some radical changes. And maybe such awakening is one of the things that this war will bring on.

Certain capitalists visiting Seattle, since the ship-building boom came on, have been perfectly amazed. Thousands of men in their overalls go back and forth between the yards and their homes in their own automobiles or in taxicabs. The streets adjacent to the yards are so packed by workmen's machines that they're almost impassable. Holy horrors! Revolution or high wages, after the war! Eight, ten or twelve dollars the day for carpenters, machinists, riveters and such, when peace comes! Such is the frightful outlook. But, those workmen are buying a better class of goods, living better and are happier. You cannot estimate their value as property by their numbers, and none save a fool can argue that their value has not greatly increased. Individually, these men are certainly better off, and, in the final analysis, that nation is strongest, every way, in which the average of content and happiness is highest.

ANOTHER BIG SPLASH

There is to be another big splash on Labor Day, bigger perhaps than that with which we celebrated the Fourth of July.

The ninety-five ships launched on the national holiday might be regarded as a tribute to the day, and an evidence of American patriotism in general. The 100 ships that are likely to be launched on Labor Day will be a specific proof of the devotion of American workmen to the cause we are fighting for.

It is their own idea. They want to celebrate their own holiday by a contribution that will advertise to all the world exactly where American labor stands in the great conflict of human ideals.

The kaiser will hear that splash, and it will remind him inevitably of the contrast between our labor festival and Germany's. Every first of May for years has been an ominous day for the German government. This year particularly it was feared that the Socialists would break loose. Assemblies were forbidden, and troops were posted everywhere to prevent uprisings. And in America we have our labor organizations working, almost to a man, with unexampled zeal, in co-operation with the government.

In ordinary times it may be excusable for a congressman to represent his district first and the United States afterward, but just now the order must be reversed. National interest in every case takes precedence over local advantage.

"We are eating at a common table," says President Wilson, speaking of the allied food supply. There is now plenty for every plate, and Uncle Sam takes a proud satisfaction in his role of host.

A SCENE FOR THE MOVIES

One of the hardest things for the people at home, as they read the war news and the letters from the front, is to visualize the actual fighting—to see their Yankee lads exactly as they look in the big battles on which hangs the world's fate. Here, from the pen of a French correspondent, is a description that helps immensely:

"The finest thing of the combat was the dash of the Americans. It was a fine thing to see those grand fellows, with their tunics thrown off and their shirt sleeves rolled up above their elbows, wading the rivers with water to their shoulders and throwing themselves on the boche like bulldogs.

"Anyone who has seen such a sight knows what the American army is good for henceforth and to the end of the war. At the sight of these men, magnificent in their youth, physical force, good temper, and dash, the Germans fled with every leg or surrendered without awaiting the order to throw away their arms and take off their suspenders, which is the first thing a prisoner is told to do, in order that he may be compelled to keep his hands employed and out of mischief.

"The Germans hurried toward our lines, gripping their trousers, haggard, and mad with terror. "Would that every mother in France who has lost a son in the war could have seen that epic sight. They would have seen themselves revenged, and it would have been some consolation to them in their sorrow."

Would that every mother, in America who has a son in the war—and every father and brother and sister and uncle and aunt—could likewise see that epic sight.

We may see it, too. 'Was there ever more glorious matter and inspiration for the movies? They will be giving us that scene, or a duplicate of it, taken from real life, one of these days.

The brewers have got to stop brewing as soon as their present supplies of materials are used up. And nobody seems to mind much. The dry communities are not interested, and the wet communities are so disgusted with the low alcoholic content of present-day beer that they don't care what happens.

The Germans are now, in their western positions, just a trifle better off than they were after the first battle of the Marne, and in their military strength incomparably weaker. That is the net result of four years' struggle and bloodshed.

"When we were told that there were 1,000,000 Americans in France," said a captured German, "we laughed at it. Now we believe there are 10,000,000." It certainly looked like that when they hit the Huns.

"A battle," as Hindenburg explained to his impatient Germans some time ago, "takes time to mature." But surely after four months of German victory it ought to be starting to ripen.

Observing what our fighting men are doing and enduring in France, how can any man or woman at home shirk any needful task?

Observations

American public eating places are to be released from their no-wheat pledge. Allied countries have enough wheat to abandon their extreme wheat conservation plans. If you were a Hun, wouldn't it jar you?

Uncle Sam has contracted to purchase 99,560,000 pounds of bacon and 134,000,000 pounds of canned meats, the largest meat order in the history of the world. If our boys "over there" don't eat meat, it will be because they haven't the teeth for it.

Germany might have got a few pointers from Spain about the fighting quality of American soldiers. Twenty years ago a Spanish soldier, speaking of the Americans, exclaimed, "They tried to catch us with their hands."

A German newspaper says its army is losing because the Allies learned of German plans from deserters. That isn't true. The Allies learned of the plans by reading the reviews by the experts in the American newspapers.

When little Anna Louise's little brother arrived she was told that the doctor had brought him, and the appearance of other babies in the neighborhood was explained the same way. Finally the stork left a daughter at the doctor's home, and Anna Louise's parents, who were fond of the doctor, spoke enthusiastically of the sweetness and cuteness of the newcomer.

"Yes, I guess it must be nicer than most babies," said Anna Louise, "because Dr. Ott kept this one himself."—Judge.

Bud Flivver's Observations

*** I met him one day—A long time ago—And while we were talking—I pulled a long hair—Off his coat collar—

*** And it was a hair—As white as snow—And I knew it belonged—To his old mother—

*** And I could see—How he and his mother—Were living together—And he wouldn't marry—Until she passed away—

*** And every year—I would see him—Many times a year—And we would speak—And I would—Feel sorry for him—

*** For I knew—He was the age—When he would—Like to get married—And have a family—All his own—

*** And then I would think—Of that white hair—I pulled off his coat—And I would know—Why he was waiting—

*** And I would—Pass a few remarks—With him and would—Give him a cigar—And he would look surprised—

*** And one time—I took him—To a picture show—And a guy—And his old mother—Were living together—And the mother died—

*** And it made me feel—All cut up—Because I knew—It would make him—Feel sad—To think of the time—When his mother would die—

*** And I never asked him—About his family affairs—And he never seemed—Inclined to tell me—

*** And the other day—He came in and said—He wanted me—To meet his wife—And his children—

*** And I asked him—How long had he been married—And he told me—About twelve years—

*** And I asked him—How was his mother—And he said—She had died—Before he got married—

Mrs. L. K. Strong Hostess at Delightful Luncheon For Mrs. Parmelee, Chicago

Delicate yellow mustard flower and asparagus ferns made the attractive table decoration for the charming four-course luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. L. K. Strong of West Seventeenth street, in compliment to Mrs. Parmelee of Chicago. The latter's sister, Mrs. L. R. Bailey of Pasadena was also a guest.

The place cards bore a touching noontide prayer on behalf of the soldiers fighting in the trenches, and a wee silk service flag honoring Mrs. Parmelee's soldier son.

In the afternoon, a pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Parmelee and also a pleasant treat to the other guests, when Mrs. Strong read an interesting letter sent her from her daughter in Chicago and written by Mrs. Parmelee's son, Paul, who is a noted chemist in the army in France and who works in the gas department. He has made several very noticeable changes which have proved very profitable to the Government.

The ladies were all busy with their knitting, and besides those already mentioned, the guests included Misses C. F. Crose, P. A. Robinson and R. G. Tutthill.

Outing to Lake Tahoe
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry, Jr., and party, have just returned from a 1500-mile trip to Lake Tahoe.

Those who enjoyed the lovely outing were Mr. J. A. Terry, Sr., and son, George and Master Clarence Oliver of Oxnard; Mrs. Emma Gale, sister of Mrs. Nicholas Jonas of Tustin, and Mrs. Virginia Nelson of Los Angeles.

The trip was made across the Mojave desert, through Inyo county, and north through the Mammoth country, Mono county; the land of the Sierras' beautiful lakes. Then over the Tioga Pass to Lake Tahoe and home through the San Joaquin Valley to Sausalito and up the Santa Clara Valley to Oxnard and back to Santa Ana.

Mr. Terry reported very little tire trouble and good fishing en route. He says this end of the country certainly looks good, after having crossed the desert.

Gone to Washington
Miss Valesca Rost, a pupil of Santa Ana High School for the past four years, has accepted a position as stenographer at Washington, D. C., and is now on her way east, leaving here July 27.

IN DAUGHTER'S HONOR

Beta Sigma Class, First Presbyterian, Entertained For Miss Grace Rowley

Miss Grace Rowley, who has been in the United States on a year's furlough from her missionary duties in China and who has been greatly enjoyed during her visit on account of her many interesting talks and exhibit of beautiful curios from the far-away land, will leave some time next week on her long return journey.

Included in the number of pleasant farewells shown this efficient young woman, was one last night attended by the old and new members of the Beta Sigma class of the First Presbyterian church, of which Miss Rowley's mother, Mrs. A. R. Rowley is the temporary teacher.

The evening was spent in what Mrs. Rowley calls her canyon, out of doors where lanterns and electric lights gleamed over the merry scene.

The diversion for the evening was a unique plan. Mrs. Rowley gave each girl a character to represent and carry out, such as the food conservationist, the fisherman who had been to Bear Valley or the girl hard of hearing. Needless to say that the fun waxed fast and furious.

Late in the evening, refreshments of cake and ice cream were served, the latter being eaten with chop sticks, in honor of the way Miss Rowley eats when in the land of her adoption. Twenty-seven were present to enjoy the pleasures of the evening and to wish Miss Rowley Godspeed on her return trip.

EVENING PARTY

Mine Hosts Edenfield of the Meyer Hotel Entertain For Company of Guests

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Edenfield of the Meyer Hotel were hosts yesterday evening at a very pleasant card and dancing party for their company of guests, twenty being present to enjoy the diversions of the evening.

The dancing salon was made attractive with potted plants and pink carnations and the music for tripping the light fantastic was provided by Mr. King, who presided at the piano. A delightful feature of the evening was the beautiful vocal solos sung by Miss Nanette Goldenberger.

Late in the evening the guests were bidden to the banquet room, also decked with potted plants and spicy carnations, where ice cream in heart shape and delicious cake were served.

Those participating in the evening's enjoyment were Messrs. and Misses W. Biddick, Rogers, Ransom Reid, King; Misses McCabe, Goldenberger, Archer, Huntington; Mrs. Mildred Culver; Messrs. Meyer, McNab, McAfee, Bird and Van Why.

FOR THE GOVERNOR

Reception and Banquet Given at Elks Hall Delightful Affair Last Night

A reception and banquet given at Elks' hall last night in honor of Governor William D. Stephens proved to be a delightful affair. Following the greetings and introductions to the governor, in the club parlors, the guests, led by Governor Stephens and Mrs. William L. Grubb, entered the dining room, where a banquet was served by James'.

The divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Harcourt W. Peck, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The greetings of the city were aptly extended by Mayor A. J. Visel. A three-piece orchestra furnished the music during the evening. After the banquet, Mr. J. C. Burke asked Governor Stephens to tell those present something of the more intimate side of some of the big men who served in Congress with the governor. In his talk, the governor dwelt upon the fairness of Champ Clark, of the systematic thoroughness and of the power and activity of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, efficiency of "Jim" Mann, and of the courtesy and leadership of Congressman Underwood.

Those attending the banquet given the governor were Messrs. and Misses W. L. Grubb, John Wehrly, J. C. Burke, J. P. Baumgartner, W. B. Williams, R. A. Cushman, Clyde Bishop, J. N. Anderson, C. S. TWO VOLUNTEER
FOR MECHANIC
SCHOOLING

Rosenbaum and Waterman Ready to Go to Special College in Utah

While Orange county exemption board No. 1 has not yet received official notice of a quota for men of a mechanical turn of mind to go to an army training school at the State Agricultural College of Utah, two men have volunteered for that call. A dispatch yesterday said that Orange county's quota would be five. Neither of the two boards has been notified officially.

The two volunteers are Fred Rosenbaum of San Juan Capistrano and Carl I. Waterman of El Toro. Waterman came into exemption headquarters and notified the board that he no longer had any dependencies. He is to be put in class 1 at once.

All in Class 1

The local board has received notice of rulings by the appeal board by which five agricultural claims were denied and one dependency appeal was refused. Each of the six registrants remains in class 1. They are: Jesse S. Pluneda, Tustin; Robert Jeffrey, Irvine; William M. Price, Irvine; F. P. Fuller, 1130 South Lyon; Harold H. Greenwald, 1210 West First; Paul D. Wheeler, 1127 West Pine, dependencies.

The agricultural claim of Marcos N. Yorba of Yorba was denied by the appeal board, but the case came back with a recommendation that Yorba be allowed to put in a dependency claim, which he had failed to put in.

EXEMPTION BOARD IS PASSING ON CASES

FULLERTON, Aug. 1.—Herbert F. Shunk was placed in Class 1 by the local board and appealed to the district board to be put in Class 3, division B, having dependents, but the district board has denied his appeal.

James H. Holley has been re-classified by the district board on appeal and is now in Class 4. He must report his earnings each month to the local board.

The local exemption board has received word to the effect that the twenty-one men who were entrained from here for Camp Lewis on the 22nd, arrived safely at their destination.

The local exemption board has received an order to entrain the ten men for Camp Fremont during a five-day period beginning August 5, to entrain the contingent on Tuesday, August 6, at 4 o'clock p. m. The men are to report at the board headquarters at 10 a. m.

Ralph A. Ross has been re-classified by the district board and placed in Class 1. Ross Robles was put in Class 1 by the local board, and has appealed to the district board. He wants to be placed in Class 3, on account of dependent mother and sisters.

Merrill C. Royer of Fullerton and Percy O. Crawford, Bessie, N. D., have been re-classified by the district board and placed in Class 1.

Ralph W. Maas of Anaheim has been re-classified by the district board on appeal in Class 2.

Chester D. Harrison, Anaheim, who was cited to appear before the local board on the "work or fight" order, has been found to be engaged in a useful occupation. He had not kept the board informed of the character of his occupation.

William H. Knott and Oral L. Dickson, both of Anaheim, have been found by the local and district boards to be engaged in useful occupations under the "work or fight" regulations.

PRINCESS TONIGHT
AND TOMORROW TO SHOW GIANT STAR

Maciste, the Italian giant now starring in "The Warrior," starting tonight at the Princess Theater, has created a sensation by the remarkable feats of strength he has performed while in the movies.

There has been much discussion as to how he stacked up against Jess Willard, champion heavyweight of the world. The measurements of both men were taken and Maciste outclassed the American giant in every way.

Maciste stands seven feet high, weighs 330 pounds, has a chest circumference of 54 inches and biceps of 28 inches. These measurements only go to show that the sporting world was cheated out of a perfectly good wrestler or perhaps world champion boxer by the moving picture camera.

He is at present upholding the honor of that noble race with the Italians who are fighting like brothers with the boys in khaki and the other Allies against the tyranny of German autocracy.

Maciste rallied to the call and is seen doing his bit as one of the boys carrying the cross of Christianity which is to eventually conquer a country of barbarians that have been hiding behind the cloak of civilization. He alone takes a cannon weighing 500 pounds and carries it on his back over the top of the snowy mountain. This performance was not done for the camera, but under orders of the army officers. These pictures were given out by the Italian war office and are not scenes posed for by moving picture artists.

CHARGE L. A. COUNTY
IS OUT $16,000 FROM
LOSS OF AUTO FINES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Charges that at least $16,000 have been diverted from the treasury of Los Angeles county within the last two years by a system of "fixing" speeding cases, have been under investigation by the county grand jury and the County Efficiency Commission. It was disclosed yesterday that the investigation has reached into every township court, with the exception of one, and also involves the sheriff's office.

In an investigation of the county motorcycle police, startling information was brought to light, it was stated, in that nearly a third of the persons arrested on speeding charges on county highways have had their cases dismissed by the simple exercise of a little "pull." Members of the grand jury also inspected the records in the sheriff's office, with a view to sifting the matter to the bottom.

RIVERSIDE SELECTS COUNTY FIRE WARDEN

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 1.—F. M. Baird, for 14 years in the state forestry service, has been chosen by the farm bureau to act as fire warden of Riverside county. When the board of supervisors approved the appointment of a fire warden, the authority to obtain the right man for the place was given to the county farm bureau. After a careful survey of the situation, Baird was chosen and called from the ship yards where he had been doing his bit for the country.

The protection of the grain acreages and bee ranges of the county will be Baird's business and his 14 years of work in the Temescal and San Bernardino mountains have fitted him well for his job. He will be assisted in his work by volunteer district fire wardens who will have the power to draft into service any persons whom they choose. Baird and R. N. Wikson, county farm advisor, have been out in the county working on the fire organization and lining up men who will act as wardens in their district.

REGISTRATION FIGURES

Republican	1918	1916
Progressive	11,412	11,391
Democratic	132	1,541
Prohibition	5,238	4,071
Socialist	1,541	1,064
Decline to state	477	572
Total	2,218	3,594

Registration figures for Orange county for the primaries are now complete. While still 1200 short of the registration for the primaries two years ago, the total climbed rapidly the last two or three days of registration. What at first appeared to be a shortage of 2500 was reduced to one of 1200.

With hundreds of men away in army service, the change in registration is not surprising.

The above table shows comparative figures for the registrations of 1916 and 1918. The Republican, Democratic and Prohibition registrations have all advanced, while the Progressive registration has dropped down to a few score and those declining to state party affiliation are nearly 1400 fewer in number than they were two years ago.

During the registration period that closed Saturday there were ninety-six registrants who changed their party affiliation. Of the ninety-six, there were eighty-three who changed to Republicans. It is believed that practically all of those changing to Republican made the changes in order to vote for dry candidates for Republican nominations.

The changes were: Socialist to Democrat, 2; declining to state to Republican, 23; declining to state to Prohibition, 4; Socialist to Republican, 1; Democrat to Republican, 8; Prohibition to Democrat, 1; Prohibition to Republican, 1; declining to state to Democrat, 5; Prohibition to Republican, 33; Republican to Democrat, 1.

BLACKSMITH AT MOVIE ACTRESS GROVE FIRES FATAL SHOT INTO HEAD

Francis F. Kniffen, 27, Committed Suicide, Says Wife; Has Three Children

Unusual circumstances mark the death of Francis F. Kniffen, aged 27, and a blacksmith of Garden Grove, according to Coroner Theo A. Winbiger, who investigated the case today after it had been reported to him that Kniffen committed suicide last night. A post mortem examination was made this afternoon, and the inquest will be held at Garden Grove tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Word of Kniffen's death was reported last night, and the body was brought to the Mills & Winbiger parlors. According to Mrs. Kniffen, they were ready for bed last night about 9 o'clock, when her husband, sitting on the side of the bed, fired the fatal shot. She said they had two revolvers in the house, and last evening he asked where they were. She told him, but did not know he had secured one from the dresser drawer where she had placed them. Just before the shot was fired, she said, she saw he had the gun to his head and she ran in the adjoining room and turned on the light just as he pulled the trigger. The second revolver was found under the mattress loaded.

The bullet was found to have entered at the extreme back of the head. It is reported no powder marks were noticed.

Kniffen moved with his wife and three small children to Garden Grove a year ago, it is reported. He worked in the old W. B. Harper shop and they lived in the Rogers place on Acacia street. It is reported they formerly lived at Orange.

The family's domestic life was not as harmonious as it might have been, reports from Garden Grove state, and this state of affairs was probably a contributing cause to the rash act. Comment was occasioned a few weeks ago when Mrs. Kniffen was absent in the East for some time, leaving the children solely in the care of their father, who had to work during the day. The oldest child, it is reported, is about 6 years of age.

LOUSE GLAUM ANSWERS IN COURT FOR CHAUFFEUR'S FAST DRIVING

Miss Glaum, movie actress, heard from City Recorder Heathman this morning, when she appeared in court to answer for her chauffeur, who was caught speeding in this city a few days ago.

These were the words pretty Louise Glaum, movie actress, heard from City Recorder Heathman this morning, when she appeared in court to answer for her chauffeur, who was caught speeding in this city a few days ago.

Miss Glaum had protested that the tires on her car were oversized and that her machine must have been rolling faster than the speedometer indicated, as her chauffeur was a careful driver and did not intentionally exceed the speed limit.

She paid a $10 fine. Before coming into the city recorder's court $10 of the actress' big salary had been annexed by Judge Cox in settlement of a case in his court in which the chauffeur was charged with speeding over the county roads. Both offenses were committed on the same trip, the county cop making the arrest a few minutes before City Cop Keeley picked up the machine at a speed in excess of the limit within the city.

Attorney Ingle Carpenter accompanied Miss Glaum on her trip to the courts.

JULY BIG MONTH IN SALE WAR STAMPS

City Takes Up Over Two-Thirds of Its Quota In Seven Months

Santa Ana is marching right along toward the purchase of her quota of war stamps, sales at the post office yesterday setting a new record for one day's sales. With only seven months of the year gone, the sales at the postoffice total over two-thirds of the city's quota. The sales for the month of July totaled $56,008.25, maturity value.

The city has been boosted ahead of her quota for the seven months by the fact that a number of pledgors have taken up the full amount of their pledges instead of spreading them out over the balance of the year. While the department has expressed the wish that the pledges should be taken by months so as to make even sales every month, there is no particular objection to the purchasing of full amounts at one time. The Government can use the money at any time.

With the records standing as they are today, the first day of August, this city will have to purchase a little less than $98,000 worth of stamps during the five remaining months of the year.

City Chairman Andrews has arranged a complete plan for checking up all who pledged in the recent drive and where it is found that pledges are not being met, cards are sent by the War Savings committee advising the pledgor that he has failed to take up his monthly pledge. Checking through the postoffice and banks as stamps are bought makes it possible for the committee to keep tab on the pledgors.

Reports from different points in the county indicate that all sections have swelled the sale of stamps during the month of July.

County Chairman John McFadden and City Chairman Andrews are very much pleased with the showing made for the month ending yesterday.

INCREASE POLICE PAY

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 1.—Hereafter policemen who have passed their first year in service will receive $90 per month, and this will be increased $5 per month for each succeeding year until $110 is reached. Carlson has been increased to $140 per month. The salaries of firemen have likewise been increased.
